DEATH RATE IN STATE IS HIGH ACCORDING TO STATE BOARD

The report of the State Board of Health on the number of deaths from influenza and pneumonia for the months of October, November and December has just been received. It is so appalling that we believe every one should know about the high death rate from the dread disease. Following is the report:

Altogether 15,544 deaths from influenza and pneumonia (all forms) were reported for California for the last quarter of 1918, the monthly totals being as follows: October, 5,381; November, 6,505; and December, 3,658. The quarterly aggregate included 13,121 deaths from influenza and 2,423 from pneumonia (all forms.)

"The 15,544 deaths from influenza and pneumonia comprised 9,900 males as compared with only 5,644 females. Altogether 14,550 were Caucasians, with only 570 Japanese, 108 negroes, 151 Chinese and 115 Indians.

"It is a notable fact that deaths from influenza and pneumonia occur largely among persons in the twenties and thirties. Of the whole 15,544 deaths from these diseases reported for the final quarter of 1918 no less than 4,976 or 32 per cent were at 30 to 39 years, with as many as 4,430 or 28.5 per cent at 20 to 29 years. This 9,406 deaths or three-fifths of all (60.5 per cent) occurred at 20 to 39 years."

VISITING IN REDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scragg, of this city, are spending a few weeks with their parents at Redding—Mr. and Mrs. John Scragg and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Witherow.

RECOVERED FROM ILLNESS

Conductor "Chick" Adams of the traction company lines running into this city, is up and around again after several days of illness.

subscribers, $17,250; Western States Gas and Electric Co., 18 subscribers, $1,550; Southern Pacific Railway, 40 subscribers, $2,950. Total 4578 subscribers; amount $268,150. Richmond went nearly 50 per cent over its quota of $367,200, and appreciation is expressed to all of those who helped in the campaign by their subscriptions and work.

YOUNG LOUIS SCHRADER TELLS OF TRIP HOME ON BIG TRANSPORT

L. H. Schrader, the furniture dealer, has just received a very interesting letter from his son, Louis, who has just arrived at New York from France. The letter was written on board the steamship Imperator, that was formerly a German vessel. Young Schrader gives a graphic description of the big vessel that is well worth reading.

He states in the letter that he is longing to get home again and expects to arrive in Richmond before the 4th of July.

In speaking of the immense Imperator he says: "I never before had an idea what a real ship was like. This thing is sure enough a floating city, and you need a motor bike to go around the deck. Roller skates would help. The engine room is not to be compared with anything I have seen on land. There are four propeller shafts, two big turbines on each shaft, and each turbine is as big as your house. To talk about the rest of the machinery would take a book. There is even a slaughter house and a big refrigerator plant on board.

"It is a two day trip to go through the boiler room. Of course as it is a German boat everything is labeled in German, and we sure have one job in the engine rooms follow a line out from a pump or condenser. As for getting around the rest of the ship I gave it up as a bad job long ago.

"Some one told me yesterday there was some mail for me in the ship's postoffice. I haven't found the postoffice yet, and have spent three days looking for it. There are only thirteen decks on this barge, and as one 'gob' said: 'Holy gee, thirteen decks and no bottom.' He was right. The boat draws 42 feet of water and the engine room deck is fifteen feet from the bilge. It sure is some change from a 110 foot boat to this 950 foot barge. There are eleven elevators for the passengers, but none near the engine room, so yours truly is getting nimble chasing up and down iron steps. It is quicker and easier than using the lifts, as they are so far away that it would be a hike up there and another long one back.

Your son,

LOUIS.

(Everywhere, everywhere, nowhere.) P. S.—This letter is written in German ink (it didn't cost me anything.)

WARSAVANTTO LECTURE HERE ON SIBERIAN QUESTION

"An American Officer in Siberia" is the topic of the talk to be given in this city this evening at 8 o'clock by Lieutenant-Colonel David P. Barrows.

For more than a year Col. Barrows served with distinction in the expeditionary forces in the Far East, and he is one of the first field officers to return across the Pacific bearing news of the far-flung battle line of the allies. His adventures in Siberia, and his impressions of that great war-scarred region, make up a lecture of extraordinary interest.

At the beginning of the war, Col. Barrows was dean of the faculties and professor of political science in the University of California. He entered the army, was sent to the Philippines, and from there, in March, 1917, was ordered to Vladivostok on a special military mission. When the American Expeditionary forces went to Siberia, Col. Barrows was made head of the intelligence service of this army. In his official capacity he traveled thousands of miles and met with many exciting experiences, especially in the battles around Chita, near Lake Baikal, in April of last year. He has high praise for the heroic Czech-Slovak armies that fought their way across Siberia and stood as a strong bulwark against Bolshevism.

Colonel Barrows is well able to compare the Asiatic with the European battle-front, having served in the field with the Commission for Relief in Belgium in 1915-16. Because of his training as professor of political science, he observed very closely the governmental changes in Russia. He warns against the false appeals of Bolshevism. "Do not trust those who speak softly of Bolshevism," is his message. "It is the enemy of civilization. The triumph of Bolshevism would mean the end of moral law."

Colonel Barrows is making a speaking tour of the state under the direction of the University of California Extension division. In all the cities in which he has appeared, enthusiastic audiences have listened to his forceful address.

SHERIFF VEALE TO LEAD IN MANAGING THE COMMUNITY COUNCIL BALL NEXT SATURDAY

Sheriff R. R. Veale, who is to act as floor manager at the grand ball to be given by the Richmond Community Council next Saturday evening, has asked every delegate of the organizations belonging to the Community Council to act as his assistants in introducing the people who will attend the ball. The Sheriff has gone to the expense of ordering special badges for all delegates with the name of the organization that the delegate represents and the name of the delegate thereon.

All delegates of the Community Council are asked to be on hand early in the evening so as to receive their badges and instructions from Sheriff Veale.

This first ball to be given by the Community Council promises to be one of the most successful social affairs of the season and a large attendance of Richmond's best people is expected. The affair will be mostly one in which evening dress will be the rule, but no one

CUTTING ORDERED TO PAY BIG SUM OF MONEY FOR LAWYER FEE

Apparently the long litigation between Henry J. and Francis Woodward against Henry C. Cutting relative to the Canal Subdivision in this city, is to come to a final end. Yesterday in Federal Judge Van Fleet's court in San Francisco, an order was made for Cutting to pay to Clayburg & Whitmore, attorneys for Woodward, the sum of $7426, being their fee in the case.

The court ordered the payment of this sum within 60 days or the sale at public auction by United States Marshal James B. Holohan at the front door of the post office in San Francisco or 1175 shares of the capital stock of the Pt. Richmond Canal and Land Co., now standing on the books of this company in the name of the Monetary Trust Co., of which Cutting is president.

Of course, nobody knows what, if any, action will be taken by Cutting in the manner. Since the Woodward's obtained judgment against him in the Federal court in the long-drawn-out lawsuit, the property has been in the hands of a receiver, and so far as the public knows, Cutting has not been making any effort to straighten out his financial affairs, but rather is concerning himself with his duties as fiscal agent for North Dakota, which state is just now attempting to run its affairs in accordance with socialistic or communistic theories.

FORMER MANAGER OF LIGHT COMPANY HERE

C. M. Brewer, former manager for the Western States Gas and Electric Company in this city, and now general manager for the Mountain Power Company, with headquarters in Albany, Oregon, was in town today on a brief business visit and to shake hands with his many friends here.

Brewer declares that he likes his new field of labor very much, and is especially in love with Albany, his new home. Mrs. Brewer and the baby departed last night for a long stay in the East visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Brewer returns to his Oregon headquarters this evening.

STANDARD IS DEVELOPING DOCKS AND WHARVES

Speculation is rife among business men of Richmond concerning the recent action of the Standard Oil company in securing additional land from the East Shore company and beginning further enlargement and improvement of their docks and wharves at Long Wharf and Point Orient. There is a growing suspicion that the difference between the Standard management here and the managers of the Minter Estate Company over land surrounding the inner harbor work of the big oil concern has compelled them to abandon their work there and begin the development of the wharves and docks at the two above named places, which will give them ample facilities to expand their export program.

It is alleged that the Minter estate company through its managers have attempted in every way possible to hamper the work of the Standard in their dredging of the inner harbor project which has been a portion of the magnificent program of the company here for development and extension of the plant. It is understood that the Minter people retained ownership in the lands fronting on the harbor of the Standard Oil with the idea in view of profiting by any work accomplished by the company. On the other hand the work which is being done by the Standard is intended entirely for their own benefit and not to be used for commercial shipping, except when steamships may have occasion to come in to load or discharge cargo.

At any rate, the local oil company seems to have abandoned the inner harbor project, and is centering all its energies on the enlargement of their San Francisco bay wharves. Dredgers are at work deepening the harbor and pile drivers are increasing the wharf and dock areas.

BRENTWOOD BOY IS KILLED BY RUNAWAY HORSE AT HI SCHOOL

BRENTWOOD, May 28.—James Diffin, popular student of the local high school, was instantly killed yesterday when a saddle horse that he was leading out of the high school yard became frightened, dashed down the street and dragged the lad under an auto, crushing his skull.

Young Diffin, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Diffin, prominent residents of this community, was in the habit of wrapping the lead-rope about his wrist when leading the horse.

After school yesterday he started to lead the animal from the school yard when the horse suddenly jumped to one side. This threw the lad to the ground, and the horse, becoming frightened, dashed out of the yard and down the main street of the town dragging the youth after it on the ground.

The wild career of the horse ended when the boy's body swung into an auto standing by the sidewalk and the rope broke. Young Diffin was picked up unconscious and medical aid was hastily summoned. It was found that he was suffering from a crushed skull, internal injuries, a broken wrist and countless bruises and cuts. He died almost as soon as he was picked up from the street.

HOME FROM SANTA ROSA

Robert Pillow, well known business man and capitalist, is home from a trip to Santa Rosa. He declares the country up in that section never looked finer than at the present time.

GOING EAST ON LONG TRIP.

Charles E. Linnell and wife are going to start next Monday for a long trip to the East. They are first going to Portland and then on by the way of the Oregon Short Line to the Atlantic seaboard. They expect to return to Richmond about the first of the year.

Y. M. C. A. TO BE PLANNED AT DINNER TOMORROW

The initial steps toward forming a Y. M. C. A. organization in Richmond, and perfecting plans for the erection of a building will be taken tomorrow evening at 6:30 at the Richmond club house, when there will be a dinner held, and a meeting of representatives of the industrial life, women, labor, business and professional men, will take place.

Dr. W. M. Bullock is at the head of the movement, and says the prospect is very bright for such an organization in this city, as it is badly needed.

Addresses will be made by prominent citizens of Richmond, and Maj. J. W. Woolridge, who served in France in the 38th infantry, 3rd division, and now at the Letterman hospital in San Francisco, will give an interesting talk.

Harold E. Goodenow and Chas. Puelier, industrial secretaries of the Y. M. C. A., of San Francisco, have also been invited to be present and address the meeting. They will discuss the needs of the community and the work of the Y. M. C. A.

RECOVERING IN OROVILLE.

BRIDE ABDUCTED BY PRACTICAL JOKERS THREE YOUNG MEN ARRESTED FOR PULLING MOVIE STUNT

Herbert Schrader, son of the well known furniture dealer, and Samuel Coe, both of this city, and Wm. Biggs, are now convinced that practical jokes sometimes have a boom-rang kick to them. They are all right when entirely harmless, and the joke happens to keep his temper, but when he happens to be hopping mad and invokes the aid of the law, then it is an entirely different thing—at least with the bride. They attempted the same thing with the groom, but he eluded his captors and went in search of his bride, who in the meantime had been spirited away in an automobile by her two cousins, Schrader and Coe, and taken to Hayward, while the bridegroom made frantic search for her, finally enlisting the aid of the officers and lodging a charge of abduction against the jokers in the local police court.

However, after taking the bride to Hayward the two conspirators became somewhat frightened over possible results and decided to partially compensate the young couple by returning her to the Hotel Oakland, which they did, and after renting a suite of rooms for the entire party, sent an automobile for the young groom, who by this time was simply frantic. This was at two o'clock this morning, but the young man hurriedly responded to the call of his young wife, when she told him over the telephone that she was safe and awaited his coming in Oakland. The boys, Schrader and Coe, came home this morning and were placed under arrest. Biggs was arrested last night. The happy couple are presumably in Santa Cruz or some other resort town in the south enjoying their honeymoon. But all this does not satisfy the reactions, and they did that very thing—at least with the bride. They attempted the same thing with the groom, but he eluded his captors and went in search of his bride, who in the meantime had been spirited away in an automobile by her two cousins, Schrader and Coe, and taken to Hayward, while the bridegroom made frantic search for her, finally enlisting the aid of the officers and lodging a charge of abduction against the jokers in the local police court.

The boys, Schrader and Coe, came home this morning and were placed under arrest. Biggs was arrested last night. The happy couple are presumably in Santa Cruz or some other resort town in the south enjoying their honeymoon. But all this does not satisfy the officers of the law, nor the courts. The boys are charged with abduction, and abduction under the law is a felony. The punishment for this crime is an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary of from five years up. Schrader and Coe declare that Biggs is innocent of having anything to do with the plot, but declare they alone formed it and carried it out, while Biggs was entirely innocent, although he was severely punished by Cain when he attempted to restrain him from going to the assistance of his young bride when he discovered she had been carried away.

Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Selvy, Mr. and Mrs. Cade Selvy of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coe of Cumberland, British Columbia, Mrs. Augusta Stansberry, Mrs. Laura Crampton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schrader and daughter, Leone, Mr. and Mrs. William Biggs of Oakland, Glenn, Ethel and Robert Cain, Samuel L. Coe, Harold, Hugh, and Eugene Selvy, Olive Crampton, Mrs. W. A. Lucas and daughter, Helen, of Valjojo, Elbert Thompson, Miss Gladys Decker of Berkeley, and Rev. and Mrs. Frank Linder, also of Berkeley. The practical jokers are out of jail on bail, and will await the action of the court some time next week when the bride and groom return home from their wedding trip.

PROTECTING NEIGHBORS

About every so often the people of Oakland and San Francisco take it into their heads that their neighboring towns should be cared for and saved from their own foolish methods of self-government. With careless indifference to their own welfare they would reach out and gather into their municipal corporate confines other and smaller towns within a score or so of miles, not because they want them, you understand, but for the plain and simple reason these other towns have not the fine art of government established.

San Francisco has been taking biennial spells of wanting to grab everything all around the bay within her confines. She would reach down into San Mateo county and over to Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond—also to Marin county, and gather the fledglings all under her wings. Oakland would do likewise, except she does not want San Francisco, but everything else on this side of the bay, regardless of county confines, she is after. And so it goes—the big fish trying to eat up the little ones.

These larger towns tell us their motive in planning Greater Oakland or Greater San Francisco, as the case may be, is entirely unselfish and for the good of the entire people of the region. As a rule, the small towns have low taxes and the reverse is true in larger towns, of course. Therefore, the larger towns are anxious to take in the smaller cities so that they may help in swelling the total of assessable property and making the bonding powers greater.

Just at the present moment the politicians of Oakland are endeavoring to organize a city and county government, embracing all the cities and towns in Alameda county within its confines. This time they are saying nothing about reaching over the county line and grabbing Richmond, but heretofore this has been one of their chief aims.

The idea of establishing a city and county government is a mighty good one for Oakland, but a mighty bad one for the other towns and the country districts. The same thing would prevail in the matter of incorporating all the cities and towns around the bay into a Greater San Francisco—mighty fine for San Francisco, but a lasting burden of taxation on the smaller cities and towns that now have low taxation.

"PROPAGANDA."

"All governments were conducting propaganda everywhere," declares William Hard, in an article concerning Russia, which was recently published in the Metropolitan Magazine—"and they were whispering because the other countries were doing the same thing."

The San Francisco Call, in calling attention to the refreshing frankness of the foregoing, declares the statement to be a fact, which is now obvious to all who read the current news.

There has never been such assiduous propaganda, nor such assiduous lying and concealing of truth, as every embattled government, not excepting our own, has been carrying on. Soon after the war began a blundering German publicity campaign was started here. An English and French publicity campaign was also started, and as it was managed with more tact and had a better cause behind it, it was more successful. Yet the truth was not always told, and the whole truth was never told.

Our own government, after we entered the war, allowed such material to be printed as would encourage us to keep on with our great enterprise, but did not allow us to learn any discouraging or disillusioning facts. It treated us like children who had to be fed on fairy stories. We gathered around Uncle Sam's knees at bed time and Uncle Sam told us stories about fairies, goblins, ogres and beautiful maidens rescued from dragons by golden-ringed princes in white satin, mounted on black chargers. If we believed these stories we grew up to be good and noble, and if we did not believe them we were spanked.

The Russian revolution afforded the most fertile field for propaganda of all kinds. The allied governments have played upon the facts about Russia like a pianist on the black and white keys. It was adverse propaganda in allied countries that killed Kerensky's government; it was adverse propaganda that made it possible for the governments of Great Britain, France, Japan and the United States to send troops on a wickedly imperialistic mission into Russia; it was adverse propaganda that counteracted in the growth of the Bolshevik power; and a deliberate campaign of misrepresentation has been carried on for some time, through the only news sources left open, in the interests of Admiral Kolchak's autocratic ambitions.

There has been one unlooked for and saving result. People no longer believe what they are officially told. They do not even believe the truth if it has a governmental stamp on it. Propaganda has corrupted the sources of information, but it has defeated its own ends.

ANOTHER WAR SECRET

One of the war secrets that it is now permissible to disclose has to do with an invention adopted by the War Department in the latter months of the conflict, which tremendously multiplied the effectiveness of the famous Lewis machine gun. The device, described and illustrated in the June Popular Mechanics Magazine, enabled one man to attend to the loading of a score or more of these deadly weapons, so that those assigned to these pieces could deliver practically an uninterrupted fire. The ammunition for the Lewis gun is contained in a detachable circular magazine holding either 47 or 97 shells. This holder is called a pan, and the new invention consists of a device, to the under side of which the pan is temporarily attached for filling with shells. The loader is so designed that it can be mounted on the edge of a box, held in the lap, or used while one lies prone on the ground out of view of the enemy.

When the boxes of cartridges are to be emptied a box is held in a vertical position, and with two downward strokes of the hand the shells are transferred to the vertical grooves, or holder, extending upward from the revolving loading wheel above the pan. When emergency or other circumstances makes it necessary to take shells from filled clips, the latter are dropped into the vertical grooves and, by operating a pair of triggers with the thumb and finger, the clip is ejected.

Placing a war tax on ice cream cones and candy may be good government policy and an easy method of getting money—like taking candy from a baby—but it strikes the average right-thinking man and woman that it is mighty small in principle. How astute and high-minded and brilliant the United States Senator and Congressman must feel now that he is taxing the children of the nation to help pay the bills contracted by the politicians of this and other nations. It may be all right, but it looks mighty bad to us.

The campaign managers of the $40,000,000 state highway bond issue which is proposed to be put over this summer are at work sending out their literature to the newspapers of the state, urging them to rush it into print and telling that they are not going to be charged for printing the stuff. Of the money thus far voted for state highways at least half of it has been squandered and the people of this county, at least, have had enough of that sort of business. The entire proposition is bunk, pure and simple. Good roads are a mighty good thing and should be provided, but they should be provided in a sane and honest way, and at the lowest possible expense to the people who pay the bills. The taxpayers of California are long-suffering and patient, but sometime they will wake up and take matters into their own hands.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed up body waste, bile and toxins.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus keeping, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate is inexpensive; any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens a liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.—Adv.

BRIGHT ROMANCE IS FEATURED AT LOCAL THEATRE

A story written expressly for the screen and with its chief recommendation for conversion into motion pictures, the fact that it conforms in every particular to the technical requirements of the fifth estate will be presented in "A Midnight Romance," second of the Anita Stewart special productions to be shown at the Richmond theatre today and tomorrow.

The story was suggested by Marion Orth, and was produced by Lois Weber. It gives to Miss Stewart a role she never before has attempted.
Her introduction is with a boat load of refugees being landed on the American shore from a stranded ocean liner. Then she becomes an enigma in her capacity of a maid at the Sea View Hotel. Twice her charming smile and gracious manner disarm a villainous man.

The continuity, or, in the layman's terms, the sequence of action in "A Midnight Romance" is an example of the truly superior results in production with a story written for the screen.

DAMAGE CLAIMED FROM DUANE FOR ALLEGED POOR NURSERY STOCK

J. H. Musick, formerly of this city, bought a lot of nursery stock from T. S. Duane, the nurseryman of Martinez, for his Vaila ranch, which is in course of development.
He claims the stock was bad and did not grow. He claims to have been damaged to the extent of $4-000, and is suing the nurseryman for that amount.

The case is on trial in Martinez this week. It was set for a week or ten days ago, but owing to the absence of Attorney Rodgers, who is one of the attorneys for Duane, a postponement was had until yesterday, when it came on for trial before a jury in Judge Latimer's court.

Attorneys Horner and Alvarado are Musick's attorneys, while Rodgers and Bray of Martinez are attending to Duane's end of the case.
It is expected that the conclusion of the trial will take place this evening or tomorrow evening.

UNKISSSED BRIDE NEW COMEDY OPENING ORPHEUM SUMMER SEASON

"She's a bride, but she's never been kissed."

So pleaded a lawyer once in a divorce case, and it just happened that a famous playwright was present and heard it. The result, "An Unkissed Bride," the greatest comedy success in years; a comedy that had New York laughing for months together, started new slang phrases and made millions for the producers, the dramatist and the stars who staged it.

"An Unkissed Bride," the laugh-maker of laughmakers, comes next Sunday matinee, June 1, to the Oakland Orpheum, when the celebrated Baker players, a big aggregation of Eastern stars, brought to Oakland for the summer season, under the management of Harry E.
Cornell, make their bow to the Oakland theatregoing public. With them will appear, as a special added feature, J. Anthony Smythe, Oakland favorite, who last year made a brilliant success in the East, and who, here on his vacation before returning to Broadway engagements, has consented to appear with the Orpheum summer attractions.

"An Unkissed Bride" is a story with a laugh to every line. Indescribably funny situations and lines are crowded into every minute; the clever Baker players present it ideally. Masterly scenic investiture, special effects and superb staging throughout add to the attractiveness of the series of plays the noted company is to offer in their six weeks engagement under Cornell's management during the Orpheum vaudeville vacation. The entire season will be of bright, snappy New York successes, for Manager Cornell believes that, especially in the summer time, "Laughing Shows" are what the public wants, and laughing shows perfectly produced.

The Baker stars have never before been seen in Oakland save in high-priced road companies. They will offer three matinees weekly, on Saturdays, Sundays and Wednesdays, and nightly performances, all at popular prices. Reservations are now being made at the Orpheum box office.

and evening performances.

PILLSBURY LEAVES FOR EAST TO PLEAD FOR GRAPE GROWERS

E. S. Pillsbury, who is credited with owning a large per cent of the California Wine Association stock, and is the leading spirit of the East Shore company that owns the lands on the potrero between the oil refinery and Point San Pablo, is on his way East to plead with the congress that the war time prohibition measures, so far as wines and beer are concerned, be annulled.

Although opinions may differ as to the utility of E. S. Pillsbury's policies in directing the affairs of the California Wine Association, of which he is vice-president, there can be no possible difference of opinion as to his professional ability and standing.

Among members of the bar, all throughout the whole of America, he ranks as one of the four most eminent juriconsults of America, and it may well be asked in what other city, west of New York, can be found four lawyers so distinguished in their profession as Mc-Enaney, Morrison, Pillsbury and Wheeler—to name them in alphabetical order.

To his plea that the wine industry of California be not utterly destroyed, Pillsbury not only brings his vast store of legal learning and ripened experience, but that burning zeal which springs only from a sincere, heartfelt conviction, and the further fact that he is financially interested as the owner of the majority of the stock of the corporation. So while he may further his hobby of making temperate men more temperate by the free use of wines and beer, he will also be a measure at least be assisting the stockholders in a substantial effort to increase the value of their holdings.

But whatever may be in store for the wine industry of the state, it is certain that the California Wine Association in this city is not figuring that it will materially injure its plans of development. Large improvements are being made of the plant. Two large warehouses have been constructed but recently, and the capacity of the equipment has been developed more than double, while the stock of the concern is still soaring skyward. It does not appear that the prohibition measures are greatly worrying the California Wine management to any criable extent.

A Letter From Home

Private Post, Lecturer at Chautauqua on the Sixth Night, Center of Happy Group on Mail Day in France

Private Harold R. Post, who comes to Chautauqua on the sixth night, is unquestionably the best-known war lecturer in the country today. His own story, "Private Post," has been one of the biggest selling books everywhere for the last two years. His articles in the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines have attracted wide comment.

He was a member of the first Canadian contingent and spent two years in France and Flanders. He was one of the heroic Canadians in that pitiful thin line that stood between the Germans and the channel ports in the early days of the war. He saw his company, ammunition exhausted, surrounded by Huns and captured. He lay fifty-two hours on the battlefield, "my shoulder smashed, my lung punctured, ribs caved in and a few other trifles busted and dislocated."

His lecture subject will be the same as his film released lately and one of the Saturday Evening Post articles, "Two Years in Hell and Back With a Smile."

RICHMOND ELKS I. W. W.'S ARE WITHDRAW FROM LEAGUE; PLAY INDEPENDENT

Well, the grouch which Manager Otto Dietrich has been carrying about with him for the last couple of weeks has been banished. His old smiling self again and it is all over the fact that Crockett is coming to Richmond next Sunday to play ball—"and believe me," says Otto, "the sugar town boys are the candy kids when it comes to juggling the sphere."

Another thing has happened to banish the glooms from the Elks, and that is they have withdrawn from the League and will play independent ball in the future. The teams who withdrew from the League last night were Pittsburg, Crockett and Richmond with occasional games from crack outside teams, when they are accused to be worthy of attention from the three clubs named.

Sunday's game is expected to be a good one, for the boys are all tired of the horseplay they have been compelled to take part in with the sandlotters they have been going up against for the past few Sundays. They have all had the experience of Richmond, and are now anxious to give the fans something really worth while during the remainder of the season. Next Sunday the entire town of Crockett is coming down to Richmond to see what is going to happen when the boys meet, for it will be a rattling game and no mistake. Here is the lineup as furnished the Record-Herald by Manager Dietrich:

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

These whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Adv.

DEPUTY SHERIFF'S STATEMENT

Mr. A. S. Andrade, deputy sheriff, indorses the famous FONG WAN HERB TEA. His personal testimonial reads: "Richmond, Feb. 8, 1919. 'I suffered from nervousness, headache and deafness. My health was so poor that I was unable to do anything. I had tried many doctors and had also been treated at the University Clinic. The doctors there inserted an instrument into my nose for the purpose of restoring my hearing. Its only effect was to cause me awful pain and bleeding. Then my nose also became stopped up and my suffering was worse than before. At last I saw a Fong Wan Herb Tea advertisement. I went to their wonderful Herb specialist, and now after six weeks am entirely well in every way. This letter of recommendation is prompted by gratitude.' (Signed) 'A. S. ANDRADE, Deputy Sheriff, 532 9th St., Richmond, Cal.' FONG WAN HERB CO., The Most Reliable, specially and tea prepared accordingly. CONSULTATION FREE 548 8th Street OAKLAND, CAL., Cor.
